Last Week=Awesome Week

We are in the middle of our final week of summer camp of 2016. It’s been an amazing time, filled with lots of games, arts & crafts, nature activities, camp songs, and campfires. Lots of traditional camp activities have been incorporated into the week, from egg drop to cray fishing to tie dye. We’ve also tried some new stuff: Mighty Mighty Scoop Noodle Challenge, geocaching, meditation. With the heat at the end of the week, we plan to spend even more time in the water!

Camp Updates

Grandparent & Me

We had an awesome time in Grandparent & Me Camp this week. Activities included cray fishing, a stream walk, paper airplanes, sidewalk chalk, and LOTS of running games with the counselors. Campers especially enjoyed singing together.

Intermediate

Intermediate campers worked together to plan their week on Monday. They have decided to do several water carnivals, complete an egg drop, hold a ping pong tournament, and go for a stream walk. As always, we played late night games on Wednesday night... Sardines in the Dark!

Junior Camp

Junior campers have had an awesome week. They created prayer pebbles, planted seeds, worked together to balance buckets of water with their feet, completed the challenge course. Later this week, they will go sailing and kayaking and enjoy other water activities.

Junior High Adventure

Junior High Adventure campers have spent most of their week off site. They began on Monday with the challenge course, and paddled down the lake for lunch on Tuesday. Wednesday, campers rock climbed on the wall in the UW Oshkosh rec center. They even found a ping pong table! Thursday brings geocaching, and campers will try sailing on Friday.
