First Week of Camp!

Pilgrim Center is so excited to finally start our summer season! We’ve filled our week with sailing, Native American flute music, s’mores, and gaga ball. We also tried a new game, golf ball, which is a wacky combination of baseball, golf, and pure silliness. We’re hoping that the wind picks up a little as our week goes on, but we’ll continue to enjoy campfires, delicious food, and large group games regardless.

Camp Updates

Grandparent & Me

Grandparent & Me Campers left today after 3 days filled with adventure. We sang lots of songs, went crayfishing, tie dyed shirts, ate s'mores, and watched a Native American flute demonstration. We also enjoyed reading lots of stories together.

Intermediate-PC Original

Intermediates have had a crafty, creative week. They made finger labyrinths, sang and signed "Spirit of the Living God," dropped some doves off the Norenberg deck, and did a candlelit labyrinth. We will be rock climbing, sailing, and having a water carnival later in the week.

Tenderfoot- PC Original

Despite their "No Fun at Camp!" rule, the Tenderfeet had an excellent time at camp. They tried out the new rock wall, had a water carnival, went sailing, and made beautiful sun spinners. The campers seemed to have a wonderful time together.

Sail Institute

Sail Institute Campers have been sailing! They have very kindly taken the other campers out sailing with them. They have also played lots of outdoor games: PacMan, Kick the Can, and Sardines. The Intermediate campers are very excited that the sailors will be helping them create a video about the Holy Spirit.
